Petition by Coeds Seeks Protection

A group of SIU coeds is charging Carbondale police with providing inadequate police protection at night. There is growing concern in the wake of recent assaults and the group is demanding weapons to ward off sexual attack.

Judy Sink of Springfield, resident fellow at Wilson Manor, 708 W. Freeman, said a police spokesman told her that four policemen in two cruisers patrol Carbondale from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m.

"We think that protection is totally inadequate," Miss Sink said. There are more than 2,000 women living off campus.

The resident fellow is circulating a petition that she hopes to hand Monday to Mrs. Anita Kuo, supervisor of off campus housing.

The petition demands:

Better lighting off campus; More efficient off campus patrols, specifically in the University School playground area; Classes in self-defense; and Availability of weapons, such as tear gas spray guns. Miss Sink said that the girls will consider boycotting night classes if steps are not taken.

"As long as the University schedules night classes, they should provide adequate protection," Miss Sink said.

'Dime Line' Drive To Begin Tuesday

Phi Kappa Tau social fraternity again will sponsor the Line of Dimes as part of the annual March of Dimes Foundation Drive on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday in front of the University Center.

Last year the fraternity collected $540. This year's goal is to stretch the Line from the Center to President Morris's office by adding $200 to the tally.

The line will be open from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. each day.

Do We Or Don't We Know?

Council Questions Students' Knowledge On Health Service and Fee Referendum

"To vote or not to vote"—that was the question, and it was debated loud and long by the Student Council at its Thursday night meeting.

The problem was: does the student body know enough about the Health Service referendum and its companion hike in student fees to vote on the issue intelligently?

The Council apparently is afraid that the student body is unaware of the facts.

One male senator said, "Two years of work by two Student Councils has gone into this bill, and if it goes to the polls the way things are now, it will fail. The student body doesn't know what the bill involves."

A bill was introduced to postpone the Jan. 29 election for three weeks, to clear up the confusion.

Fred Rouch, election commissioner, objected with "everything has been set up for the election." Ballots are being printed, a debate is scheduled for WSIU-TV, and several meetings have been set up to discuss the bill with students.

Dick Moore, student body president, told the Council of his plans to meet with both on- and off-campus dorms and houses, to inform them of the intent of the bill and what it will mean to them.

The bill to postpone the election was defeated.

After the vote, the Council discussed other possible ways of informing the student body. Suggestions were made to pass out information sheets at the polls, add an information sheet to the election day's Egyptian, or possible have the ballot reprinted in the Egyptian that day. Nothing was decided.

One male senator wanted to go on record as "believing the whole voting procedure is irregular and—unbelievable."

In other matters, Micki Goldfeather, LAS senator, introduced a bill to recommend that one-way traffic be used on stairways in Old Main, Wham and Home Economics buildings. She said "All these stairways are too narrow to accommodate two-way traffic." The bill was sent to committee.

Beverly Bradley was nominated to the election commission, to bring the number up

4th Game to Top 100 Mark

By Alan Goldfarb

Southern's basketball team won its fourth straight last night as the Salukis bombed a rugged, but cold Fort Campbell squad, 111-63.

In going over the century mark for the fourth time this season—second night in a row—the Salukis ball hawked and fast broke on the Eagles all night.

In scoring the most points of the season, the Salukis played as a unit for the first time with an inspired brand of basketball to up their season's record to 8-6.

SIU stormed out onto the court in the first half and jumped out to an early 8-1 lead and coasted from there. The Salukis had a well balanced scoring attack with 11 men getting into the scoring department—five hitting for double figures.

The Screaming Eagles were as cold as the Salukis were hot as they repeatedly missed long jumpers all night. The Eagles, who played their first game of the year last night, lost the ball a considerable amount of times either by throwing the ball away or having it stolen by the tight, aggressive Saluki defense.

Lloyd Stovall played an aggressive first half—something he hasn't done in the last three outings due to an injured thigh. But the big 6-6 center had to leave the ball game with six minutes to go in the first stanza with a cut over his left eye.

Fashion Show Tonight Sets Off Annual Military Ball Activity

Despite hurry and scurry preparations for the annual ROTC Military Ball, two other major activities relating to the dance are slated for today and next Friday.

A Military Ball fashion show is scheduled for 9:30 tonight in the Roman Room of the University Center.

SIU coeds will model clothes from local merchants during the program, Miss Darlene Winters, director of Modeling at Patricia Stevens Modeling School in St. Louis, will be mistress of ceremonies.

Appearing on the program will be Sybil Root and Lois Miller, both of Springfield; Kathy Wolak and Janice Buckley, both of Chicago; Kay Korsmeyer, Jacksonville; Trudy Dunaway, Decatur; Linda Granskog, Batavia; Sue Depper, West Frankfort; Marcia Willock, Pekin and Noretta Buckles, Peoria.

Military Queen candidates will also wear their ball gowns at the fashion show. Queen hopefuls are Marcia Walters, Nancy Pearce, Judy Foehr, Kathy Jones and Andrea Anderson.

Angelaire and the Singing Squadron will perform on the program along with John Bauenfeind, the organ accompanist.

The style show will be presented during the "Touch of Blue" dance's intermission. Glen Daum's All Stars will play for the school dance which begins at 8 p.m.

"Review in Blue" will be a musical comedy depicting the typical life of average freshmen on the SIU campus. Angel Flight, Honor Guard and Singing Squadron members will present songs and dances from Broadway hits.

Climaxing the social whirl for ROTC cadets will be the annual Military Ball slated for Saturday at the University Center. Airmen of Note, the official Air Force dance band, will provide music for the affair. Retiring queen Pam Powell Mitchell will crown the new Military Ball queen during the dance.

Foreign Countries Beckon Graduates

Twenty-three of 1,746 graduates who received degrees from SIU in 1963 have accepted positions in foreign countries, according to the SIU Placement Service.

The graduates went to 17 different countries, including Bolivia, Brazil, British Guiana, Germany, Greece, India, Iraq, Japan, Jordan, Korea, Norway, Nova Scotia, Philippines, Santo Domingo, Thailand, Viet Nam and an unspecified country in Africa.

Lindgren Records, Mails His Lectures

Tiny green plastic records are being airmailed from Puerto Rico to SIU every few days for incorporation in a new book already in process of publication.

Carl C. Lindgren, director of the SIU Biological Research Laboratory, is on leave, lecturing and directing a genetics research program at the University of Puerto Rico. Yet his publisher, Prentice-Hall, Inc., is calling for more copy for his forthcoming book, "Yeast Genetics."

So Lindgren records his Puerto Rico lectures, mails them back to the laboratory where Mrs. Jerry Lindgren and Mrs. Mary Garbutt, his research assistants, fit them into the text of the book and send them to the publisher.

Heart Transplanted; Man Lives 1 Hour

JACKSON, Miss.--A man's heart, transplanted by University of Mississippi Medical Center surgeons into the body of a chronic heart patient, beat for an hour Friday before stopping.

A medical center spokesman said the transplanted heart beat for more than an hour but proved inadequate for the patient's requirements and the recipient died.

The spokesman said it was believed to be the first transplant of a human heart in history.

"The fatal outcome could not be reversed," the hospital said. "Unfortunately the only available donor heart at the time of the patient's collapse proved too small for the requirements of the considerably larger recipient."

The recipient was in "terminal heart failure" from a chronic heart ailment of years duration, the hospital said. Neither the recipient nor the donor was identified.

The three-hour operation began late Thursday and the recipient died early Friday morning.

A spokesman said the heart was preserved while being sewn into place by chilled, oxygenated blood pumped through a coronary sinus, a large vein that drains the heart.

The spokesman said a forceful, regular beat was established with a single shock from an electrical instrument used to convert the transplanted heart to regular rhythm.

Surgical teams have transplanted hearts in more than 200 animals at the medical center.

Shortly after the first brief announcement, the hospital closed the door to all questions.

"No further information will be released until additional clinical experience is gained," a spokesman said.

Asked if this meant the hospital would say nothing until another heart transplant is tried, the spokesman said: "That's right."

The spokesman said hospital officials and doctors agreed before the transplant not to make any names public--their own, the donor's or the recipient's.

This left unanswered these key questions:

What was the age of the recipient? And the donor? Who were they? What ailment, if any, had stricken the donor? How long was the heart preserved after death of the donor?

NEW YORK--Gen. Douglas MacArthur will be visited on his 84th birthday Sunday by five West Point cadets--one of them a descendant of the congressman who appointed MacArthur to the U. S. Military Academy.

President Johnson's Stereo Set Becoming Campaign Issue

WASHINGTON--Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Friday President Johnson should have realized that Robert G. Baker couldn't have afforded to give him an expensive stereo set on his salary as secretary to the Senate Democratic majority.

The president told a news conference Thursday the stereo delivered to his home in 1949 was simply a gift from an old friend, meaning Baker. He also spoke of Baker as an employee.

Senate investigators have developed testimony that the stereo cost over $500 and was paid for by an insurance agent who had sold a big policy on Johnson's life. The agent said he sent the stereo to Johnson at Baker's suggestion.

Baker, a former Senate page from South Carolina, owed his $19,000-a-year Senate job to Johnson, who at the time was the Senate Democratic leader.

Kennedy Believes Indonesia Will Honor Malaysia Truce

LONDON--U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said Friday he believes the Indonesians will respect a newly arranged truce with Malaysia despite President Sukarno's public profession of continued hostility toward the young federation.

Half a world away in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysian Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman similarly viewed without alarm the Sukarno postscript to Kennedy's mediation efforts. Rahman told newsmen that Sukarno, in proclaiming continuation of his "Crush

Goldwater scoffed at the President's explanation. He told a news conference:

"I don't think any administrative aide can afford an $835 stereo set, if that's what it cost. I don't know any administrative aide that could. Johnson should have realized that on an administrative aide's salary, that's a pretty expensive gift."

After Johnson gave his version of the gift, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said this explanation should end the matter.

But Goldwater's comments made it plain the Republicans expect to get some election-year advantage out of the Senate Rules Committee's inquiry into the dealings where-by the 35-year-old Baker became a millionaire while holding his Capitol Hill job. He left the job Oct. 7 under fire.

Malaysia" campaign before a Communist-supported youth rally in Jakarta Thursday night, was addressing a mob. "I don't take what he said very seriously," Rahman said. The Malaysian leader suggested that, if Sukarno intends to continue his confrontation policy as a cold war, the new meaning should be spelled out at the conference of Indonesian, Philippine and Malaysian foreign ministers to be held the first week of February in Bangkok, Thailand.

The agreement to hold that conference and orders for a cease-fire in the undeclared war on the Malaysian-Indonesian frontiers in Borneo developed from peace talks Kennedy conducted in Tokyo, Manila, Kuala Lumpur and Jakarta.

Missionaries Flee Congo; Camp Burned

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo--Seven American missionaries and two American children have been flown to safety from a Protestant mission station burned down by Congolese guerrillas in southern Kwilu Province.

They were flown to Luluabourg in the central Congo in two helicopters of the United Nations. Three Roman Catholic nuns were also evacuated from the danger area, U.N. officers said.

Earlier this week, three Roman Catholic priests were slain by guerrilla fighters and a fourth priest is missing. He was identified by Catholic headquarters in Leopoldville as Father Lode Sebrechts of Belgium.

British Troops Sent At Kenya's Request

LONDON -- With unrest spreading in East Africa, Britain has ordered the spearhead of its strategic reserve, a 600-man royal marine commando unit, to fly to Kenya.

A government announcement said the troops were being dispatched at the request of Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta of Kenya to help preserve law and order. Army mutinies this week shook two of Kenya's neighbors, Tanganyika on the south and Uganda on the west.

The vanguard of commandos, who are based at Plymouth, England, began flying to Kenya Friday night.

Earlier, Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys told Parliament the troops had been requested as a "purely precautionary measure" by the Kenya government, worried at unrest spreading through East Africa.

TWO OF 10,000 — The horseman, and the mask, are two of about 10,000 African art photographs in the collection of Phillip Dark, SIU anthropologist.

10,000 Art Photos Used To Study Culture

By Ivan Goldman

A person inclined to make a first-hand study of the art of Benin, Africa, would be more successful going to Europe rather than the art's native source.

So says Phillip Dark, chairman of the Anthropology Department, who is currently making a detailed study of Bini art under a grant from the National Science Foundation.

Dark, a three-time visitor to Africa, said the British, former rulers of the area, sent most of Bini art back to England at the turn of the century.

"The great majority of the carvings are now in museums and private collections all over Europe," he explained.

However, the noted anthropologist stresses the importance of coordinating the art study with a cultural study of Benin, which cannot be accomplished without actually visiting the Bini. Benin, formerly a small African kingdom and now a part of the Nigerian Republic, is situated on a high forested plain, and is a home to Africans ranging from the rural tribesmen of the bush country to the sophisticated business and professional men of the metropolitan centers.

Although Bini art has passed its peak of creativeness, it can be traced back five centuries, and is still being produced on a small scale today, Dark said.

Bini art consists primarily of bronze and ivory carvings of a realistic rather than an abstract nature. And, because art is representative of its culture, Dark said, Bini art, being realistic, reveals more about its culture than that of many countries.

The art of Benin is so highly prized that much of Dark's research is being done from photographs, his collections being in the neighborhood of 10,000. A first hand collection is out of the question because one ivory mask recently sold for $56,000.

Dark met the king of Benin on his last trip to Africa in 1959.

The king, His Royal Highness Akenzua II, Oba of Benin, is spiritual ruler of 200,000 Bini. He is a constitutional monarch and has been an active participant in Nigerian democratic government.

Dark said the king impressed him as a cultured, good natured ruler during his visit with him in 1959. During that visit Dark and the king played a game of billiards.

Dark, a graduate of the University of London, received his master's and Ph.D. degrees from Yale University. He has written numerous publications, including the book, "The Art of Benin".

THE BASIC STEPS IN MAKING A FINE PIPE

From the "Top Quality" Section of the briar root, the rough block (A) is cut.

After many weeks of baking and curing, the block now has the tobacco hole drilled, and upper part of bowl (B) shaped.

Next the Shank is carefully shaped (D) leaving two small wings of briar, which are removed by hand to completely form the pipe.

The bottom of the bowl is shaped (E) leaving two small wings of briar, which are removed by hand to completely form the pipe.

Governor Race, Election Bill Stir Illinois Politics

Compiled From Associated Press

In a flurry of political and legislative action this week the Illinois Republican picture was switched around and the House passed a bill to provide for at-large election of state representatives.

2-Way Contest

CHICAGO—In a dramatic about face Friday, State Treasurer William J. Scott announced he will seek the Republican nomination for Illinois governor.

Hayes Robertson, Cook County Republican chairman, at the same time announced he was withdrawing from the race in favor of Scott. The announcements were made by the two men at a news conference in the Cook County Republican headquarters.

The development was part of a busy realigning of forces caused by withdrawal of ailing Charles F. Carpenter, 67, who had been figured the front-runner over Percy and Robertson.

Scott's surprise entry came as Carpenter supporters split over the prospect of shifting their allegiance to Percy. Apparently Robertson was not a factor in the maneuvering.

Some former Carpenter backers announced they were moving into Percy's camp. Other Carpenter backers have consistently criticized Percy, 44, a successful Chicago camera manufacturer, as too liberal in his political views.

Carpenter, Illinois' secretary of state, withdrew Tuesday after he had suffered a heart attack. A flurry of behind-the-scenes moves followed.

Goldwater Gives Students a 'Lesson'

MOULTONBORO, N. H.—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona brought his conservative political philosophy to New Hampshire's north country and along the way he chided a college student for being unfamiliar with the constitution.

A Belknap College student, Avritt Brown, 19, of Buffalo, N.Y., told the senator he doesn't see how the federal government can guard human rights if states can override them.

"If some of the colleges you fellows attend paid more attention to the strength of the Constitution, I'd feel a lot safer about the future of our country," Goldwater said.

"When you don't know at your age that the rights not given to the federal government remain with the states, I think you better start studying."

Smoking in Service

WASHINGTON—Top doctors of the Army, Navy and Air Force have recommended steps aimed at discouraging smoking among the 2.7 million men and women in uniform.

There would be no attempt to prohibit smoking, but the military surgeon generals proposed at a meeting Wednesday an educational program on the hazards of smoking.

At-Large Voting

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—Amid strong anti-Senate debate, the Illinois House unanimously passed Thursday a bill to provide for the at-large election of state representatives in November.

The measure was passed 156-0 and forwarded to the Senate, where foes of the bill abound.

Republican and Democratic leaders warned the Senate not to tamper with the legislation lest the two houses become embroiled in an old feud which marred the windup of the 1963 session.

The Senate has a rival plan for the at-large election and influential Republicans said the House bill will be blocked.

Basic differences between the two houses involve the method in which House candidates would be selected and the number of nominees each party would slate.

The House plan calls for elections in the April 14 primary of delegates to party conventions in June. Each party would nominate up to 118 candidates for the 177 seats.

Unless legislation is signed into law before Jan. 30, an unlimited number of candidates could start filing for the House and create a chaotic April 14 primary.

Later Brown and Goldwater shook hands and Brown invited the senator to address the students at Belknap on his next New Hampshire visit.

Goldwater, touring the Granite State in quest of votes in the March 10 presidential preferential primary, expressed confidence as he campaigned in town halls, fire stations and schools.

Goldwater said in Conway he is running ahead of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in New Hampshire, and that he believes he can defeat President Johnson in November.

Poll Tax Ban in Federal Elections Ratified

WASHINGTON -- An amendment was written into the Constitution on Thursday banning the poll tax as a condition for voting in elections for federal office.

The South Dakota Senate ratified the 24th Amendment by a vote of 34 to 0. The House had approved it last week.

South Dakota thus became the 38th state to approve the amendment. Ratification by three-fourths of the 50 states was required.

Illinois was the first state to ratify the amendment. Its legislature voted approval on Nov. 14, 1962.

South Dakota's action culminated a long fight spearheaded by a Southern senator, Spessard L. Holland, a Florida Democrat.

Republicans in the South Dakota Senate complained that undue pressure was applied from Washington to speed up action. President Johnson had telephoned the state Democratic chairman, John Engel, on behalf of the amendment.

The measure had been at the bottom of the Senate calendar, but minority Democrats succeeded in having it pushed up to the top.

The amendment provides that the right to vote in any primary or general election for president or vice president, or for senator or representative in Congress, shall not be denied because of the failure

Panama Feelers

WASHINGTON—President Johnson said Thursday that the United States is willing to "seek solution to all problems dividing" this country and Panama.

He urged that Panama agree to meet for discussions on the present crisis without demanding preconditions.

Meanwhile, U.S. and Panamanian delegates met with the Inter-American Peace Committee in an effort to narrow their differences.

Paris to Peking

PARIS—France intends to launch a "Two Chinas" policy next week with the diplomatic recognition of Communist China, reliable French sources said Thursday.

Barring some complication, France will establish full relations with Peking Tuesday and designate a Far East specialist, Jean Chauvel, as ambassador.

At the same time, so far as France is concerned, Paris will maintain the present relations with Nationalist China.

Informed sources in Taipei said however that Nationalist China already has notified some nations it will break off relations with France when Paris recognizes Peking.

Johnson's Budget

WASHINGTON—President Johnson gave Congress a one-two fiscal program this week.

In his economic report Monday, the President predicted record prosperity for 1964 if Congress acts "now" on the $11 billion tax cut.

He also warned against inflationary price rises and said he is setting up an "early warning system" by government agencies to guard against potentially inflationary price and wage increases.

The President delivered his $97.9 billion budget on Tuesday. It called for $1.5 billion cut in Defense Department spending and a reduction of 27,000 civilian employees.

to pay a poll tax or any other tax.

Only five states—Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia—now make poll-tax payments a requirement for voting.

Adoption of the amendment will not bar these states from continuing to require voters in state elections to pay a poll tax, since it applies only to federal elections. But whether this will be administratively feasible remains to be seen.

The Virginia Legislature, anticipating ratification of the anti-poll-tax amendment, already has taken action designed to offset its effect, in part at least.

The new Virginia law, in addition to retaining the state's $1.50 poll tax for state elections, provides that anyone wishing to vote only in federal elections must file a certificate of residence six months in advance.

LARRY KRISTOFF 'LIFTS' AN OPPONENT

Undeclared in 48 Dual Meets

Oklahoma State's Wrestlers Will Visit Southern Monday

SIU's undefeated wrestling team, riding on the wave of two consecutive dual meet victories, will face their stiffest test of the season here Monday night when they encounter mighty Big Eight Conference champion Oklahoma State University.

The meet will be held in Carbondale Community High School's Bowen Gymnasium and will start at 8 p.m.

Coach Jim Wilkinson's grapplers, who slipped by Bloomsburg State College 17-14 last weekend, will face the task of heading off a pack of powerful Cowboys who have branded 48 consecutive opponents with defeat.

The Cowboys, fourth best in National Collegiate wrestling last year and a perennial national power, haven't lost a dual meet since 1959 and have handed the Salukis overwhelming defeats in their last two meetings.

Wilkinson will call on four seasoned veterans and a number of talented sophomores and juniors to halt the high-flying Cowboys from Stillwater, Okla. Top performers for the Salukis this season include Terry Finn of Oak Lawn, Bill Hartzell, Overland, Mo., Don Millard, Pekin and stellar heavyweight Larry Kristoff, Carbondale.

Finn leads Southern's squad with a 10-0 record this season in the 131 pound class and Kristoff, defending NCAA college-division and AAU heavyweight champion, carries an unblemished 9-0 mark into the meet. The 177-pound Hartzell owns a 6-0 record while Don Millard is 9-1 at 167 pounds.

Also lending support to the Saluki effort will be sophomore Don Schneider (10-1), juniors Terry Appleton and Don Devine and Dan DiVito, a talented junior who has shown a marked improvement over his performance last season.

Coach Myron Roderick's Cowboy crew will feature outstanding senior heavyweight Joe James and skillful sophomores Tadaaki Hatta and Yojiro Uetake of Japan, Jim Rogers and Bill Harlow. James was the third best heavyweight in the nation last year and sports a sterling 32-3-1 career record. The rugged Cowboy was Big Eight heavyweight champion in 1963 and top man in that division in last year's Pan American games.

Roderick feels that he has an excellent group of sophomores and considers Harlow, who wrestles in the 177-pound division, to be the best sophomore he has ever coached.

According to SIU's Wilkinson, who admits that OSU has one of the finest squads he has ever seen, but feels they can be beaten, claims that the highlight of the meet will be in the heavyweight event where James and Kristoff will match talents. "Just seeing these two great competitors wrestle is worth the price of admission," said Wilkinson.

James and Kristoff are certainly no strangers. Last year the Oklahoman defeated the Saluki standout for a berth on the Pan American Games team while Kristoff edged James for the AAU heavyweight crown and stopped his bid for a spot on the American wrestling squad which competed in Japan last summer.

In dual meet competition this year the Cowboys are 1-0. They demolished defending national collegiate champion Oklahoma 21-3

Peruvian Olympic Team Falls As Southern Scores 100 to 72

Southern's cagers certainly didn't have one of its better games Thursday night, but it did manage to come up with 100 points as a sparse crowd watched the Salukis drub the Peruvian Olympians, 100-72 in Bowen Gym.

The Peruvians, who are yet to win in the United States, didn't go down easily, however, and displayed an harassing zone defense which seemed to bother the Salukis all night.

SIU had a tough time popping from the outside but managed to get inside on drives and tip-ins. The Peruvians had 26 fouls called against them (three players fouled out) with the Salukis capitalizing on many three point plays.

You never would have known that both teams exchanged gifts before the game by the way the Peruvian coach Jim McGregor exchanged unpleasanties with the officials on several occasions.

Impressive Swim Team Looks For Third Win at Nebraska

SIU's swimming team, fresh from a big victory over the University of Cincinnati, will be looking for its third straight win of the season this afternoon when they meet Nebraska's Cornhuskers at Lincoln.

Coach Ralph Casey's squad has looked impressive in its first two dual meets of the season. The Salukis have won 19 of 22 events in their first two outings—nine of 11 in their convincing victory over the Missouri Valley Conference champion Bearcats last week and 10 of 11 events in their rout of NAIA champion North Central College two weeks ago.

Nebraska, also undefeated in two dual meets this season, was a close runnerup to powerful Big Eight champion Oklahoma last year and is considered a major contender in that conference this year.

The Cornhuskers will be led by veteran conference breaststroke champion Vern Bauers and Mike Ludwig, one of the finest sprinters in the Big Eight.

According to Casey, Ludwig and Bauers should win the 50-yard freestyle and 200-yard breaststroke events but added that the Saluki swimmers should have little difficulty winning the other nine contests. "If we control the two relay events," said the optimistic coach, "it will take a tremendous effort by Nebraska to beat us."

The Saluki squad once again will be led by talented veterans Jack Schiltz, Darrell Green, Ted Petras and Andy Stoddy and hardworking sophomores Thom McAnaney and Dave Winfield.

Schiltz, a Harvey senior, established new pool and school records in the Cincinnati meet when he turned in a time of 2:02.6 in the 200-yard individual medley, seven-tenths of a second slower than the winning time in last year's NCAA championship meet.

JACK SCHILTZ

Winfield, a rapidly-improving sophomore from Little Silver, N.J., also set a new SIU record in the meet as he won the 200-yard butterfly event in 2:01.8.

Smith Hall Coeds to 'Slave' For Warren Hall Men Today

Two Thompson Point residence halls, Warren and Smith, will join today for a slave day.

The boys from Warren Hall previously served as slaves for the girls of Smith Hall, and Saturday's exchange is a turnabout.

The girls will take their places on the auction block at one o'clock and will serve their high-bidding master until four.

Slaves will perform such tasks as ironing, shining shoes, scrubbing floors, washing windows, and "just about anything," according to Alan Ashton, social chairman of Warren Hall.

Forestry Club Will Meet Tuesday

The SIU Forestry Club will meet at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday in Room 209 of the Agriculture Building.

The meeting will be highlighted by a talk on Latin America and slides depicting the action of a bull fight by Seymour Somberg, associate professor of forestry.

Saluki Gymnasts Capture 21st Straight Over Mankato St.

Mankato State racked up the most points scored against Southern's gymnastics team in three years yesterday afternoon but it wasn't enough to stop the Salukis from capturing their 21st dual meet victory in a row, 64-47.

"We just might lose it" (the meet) smiled coach Bill Meade before the meet. He wasn't too serious of course but he was worrying about his top man Rusty Mitchell being confined to the bench for disciplinary reasons.

Nevertheless, the Salukis won five of the seven events with Bill Wolf copping three firsts. Brother Denny took one first place honor as did Steve Pasternak.

Bill Wolf scored firsts in the free exercise, high bar, and still rings competition while Denny had an easy time on the parallel bars. Pasternak had an even easier time winning his second straight side horse trophy.

Meade was shorthanded because of the loss of Mitchell and John Probeck (for the same reasons as the former) and used Pasternak and John Rush on the tramp. Rush made his first appearance of the year but his knee gave way again. Although unimpressive, Pasternak scored his second straight fourth on the tramp. Pasternak had never worked the tramp before last week.

Bill Hladik, Chuck Woerz,

Ken Weigand and Henry Schaefermeyer made their first appearance of the year in dual meet competition.

Hladik tied for fourth in free exercise, Woerz placed fourth in tumbling, Weigand looked good finishing second on the parallel bars and Schaefermeyer closed second on the side horse.

Cagers Coast Home Over Eagle Troops

In the second half the Salukis picked up where they left off in the first stanza and reeled off 18 straight points as Joe Ramsey hit for 11 quick points.

Eidon Bigham played his finest game of the campaign as he led the Saluki offense on numerous fast breaks which broke the Eagles stride.

The paratroopers were probably hurting more because of the absence of their high scoring guard, Stu Sherrard. Sherrard was left at the Kentucky Army base because of military duty.

Sherrard's loss probably told on the Eagles as they were cold all night with a .313 shooting percentage. The Salukis hit for a hot .475 clip.

Ramsey had a fine scoring night as he led all scorers with 21 points — 15 coming in the Salukis blistering second half.
